

News Release: Cooperative Research and Development Agreement (CRADA) Signed

On October 24, 2011, a CRADA was signed between NSWCDD (Naval Surface Warfare Center Dahlgren Division) and Compsim LLC (Compsim). This CRADA allows NSWCDD personnel and Compsim to collaborate to evaluate the potential of KEEL (Knowledge Enhanced Electronic Logic) Technology with its DGL (Dynamic Graphical Language) to define executable policies for unmanned vehicles.

Compsim

KEEL Technology

<http://www.compsim.com>

info@compsim.com

Knowledge
Enhanced Electronic Logic

Compsim LLC is a provider of next generation cognitive technology for application in medical, transportation, military, homeland security, power distribution, business/government, industrial automation, financial services, and electronic gaming markets. KEEL Technology is only available from Compsim. <http://www.compsim.com>